ACADEMIC PREPARATIONS AND FACULTY MEETINGS

As the semester draws to a close, it's been a steady week of teaching at Lukenya University. Faculty and management have been engaged in back-to-back meetings, ensuring that everything is in place for the upcoming end-of-semester exams. Each department is working diligently to achieve its best, setting the stage for a successful end of semester.

END-OF-SEMESTER FESTIVITIES

The campus has been alive with celebrations as various groups held their end-of-semester parties. The Agriculture Club kicked off the festivities, honouring finalists with certificates, and shared fun. The Catholic community had a memorable celebration, featuring a specially selected goat by Albanus and wise words from Mr. Joseph Nzoka, one of the finalists. He shared the "Three Cs" mantra: Choice, Chance, and Change, inspiring Gen Z attendees to make meaningful choices and be the change they wish to see.

The Kamba Community had an epic party with a trip to Tsavo National Park. Students enjoyed stunning views from Shetani lava, Roaring Rocks, explored Mzima Springs, and witnessed a majestic herd of elephants, along with other wildlife like buffaloes, giraffes, unique birds, ostriches, crocodiles, and zebras. The Christian Union rounded off the weekend with their gathering on Sunday, creating lasting memories and sharing valuable advice.

INTERNATIONAL COLLABORATION: CONFLUENCE SESSION

Wednesday's Confluence Session was a highlight, with guest students from the Netherlands joining our students in the Food Systems Innovation Challenge under the project "PermaVoltaics." The session featured vibrant entertainment, including dance, music, and poetry, with a special country music performance by Dr. Bernard Nyabwari. The visiting team ushered by Ms Jael Birgen shared their innovative ideas and encouraged participation in global challenges. They were impressed by the beauty of Lukenya University and the hospitality they received. The guests also conducted community outreach, interviews, and a needs assessment for their project, with plans to return in October.

ESDG CLUB ENGAGEMENT

The ESGD Club had a rejuvenating week, hosting students from Nzoila Junior Secondary. The visiting students toured the campus and learned about sustainability from Mr. Piaro Letela and Mr. Joseph Munyao. The enthusiastic visitors expressed their admiration for the university's beauty and shared their aspirations for future studies. It was all hugs and smiles as the students enjoyed the talk by Ms. Esther Muli. Gideon kept everyone entertained with his jokes and photography, making it a delightful experience for both the guests and the hosts.
